which now constitute a National disgrace."

Mr. Lewis says:
Great prisons are overcrowded with men and boys. Assassins, brigands, pickpockets, and young men charged with disorderly conduct, or merely suspected of slight offenses, are herded together in absolute idleness and unrestricted intercourse, with no change of clothing, no blanket or semblance of bed. Many hundreds sleep on bare stones, where filth and vermin are kept down only by constant sprinkling with disinfectants.

"In some prisons the only disinfectant known is insect powder, and cases of tuberculosis, some of them far advanced, infect the rooms, and doubtless spread the seeds of the disease. Moral and physical condition are prostrated on a vast scale together. Most of these prisoners have been proved guilty of no offense.

"In this hell upon earth they are held indefinitely, while the Judges of first instance investigate the charges. Each of these Judges has a secretary, who can often secure dismissal, but the prisoner without money or influence must wait."

Veteran Newspaper Editor Dead.

WILKES-BARRE, Penn., Dec. 26.—J. C.
Coon, one of the veteran newspaper publishers and editors of Northeastern Pennsylvania, died to-day in the Danville Insane Asylum of an affection of the brain, aged eighty years. In the early seventies he was connected with The Chicago Times.
Coming East, he established The Scranton Sunday Free Press, the first Sunday paper to be published in the State outside of Philadelphia. He also founded The Wilkes-Barre Daily and Sunday News. In 1889 he went to Florida and established a paper in one of the frontier towns, but it was not a success. Returning North, he purchased The Daily News of Nanticoke, Penn., and was conducting that paper when he was stricken with his fatal illness.

Mme. Bazaine Ill in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 26.—Mme. Bazaine is seriously ill at a hospital in the suburbs of this city. She is the widow of the famous Marshal Bazaine of France, and is the daughter of one of the most aristocratic Mexican families. Bazaine fell in love with her while he was here in command of the French Army during the war of intervention. Her life has been as exciting as any romance. She followed her husband back to France, and was with him until he was imprisoned on the charge of treason. She took part in aiding him to make his escape and remained with him until his death in exile in Spain. One of her sons died in Cuba and another's whereabouts are unknown.

Avalanche in the Rocky Mountains.

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 26.—The telegraph operator at Glacier, in the Rocky Mountains, reports that an immense avalanche has swept down the mountain near there covering 800 feet of track and taking down a number of telegraph poles so that the wires are interrupted. Trees 12 inches thick were observed in the slide, and it is not yet known what else may be covered by the snow or what is the condition of the track. The slide covers the track to a depth of from 5 to 20 feet.

Doctor Acquitted of Grave Robbery.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 26.—The continued hearing in the case of Dr. O. T. Osborne, charged with unlawfully disinterment of the body of Beau Van Lee, which was resumed before Judge Studley, in the City Court this evening, was concluded at a late hour, and resulted in the discharge of the accused. In rendering his decision Judge Studley stated there was no question in his mind, from the evidence presented, that permission was given to perform the autopsy.

Augusta (Ga.) Fire Causes Heavy Loss.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 26.—The lumber plant of the Perkins Manufacturing Company and the Georgia Iron Works, owned by the Perkins Manufacturing Company, were completely destroyed by fire, the origin of which is unknown. The total loss was about $150,000, divided as follows: Lumber plant, including machinery and finished lumber stored in yards, $120,000; Georgia Iron Works, mill and machinery, $30,000.

Death of a Trained Nurse.

Mrs. Emily Smith, a trained nurse of 187 West Forty-fourth Street and the wife of George Smith, a dramatist of this city, died yesterday at the New York Hospital.
Dr. Weston of the Coroners' office, who performed an autopsy, found that she died of bronchial pneumonia, due to exposure while unconscious under the influence of some drug, probably morphine. Mrs. Smith was dead.

The Rev. Dr. Scorr.

From The Brooklyn Eagle of Yesterday.
The Eagle is gratified to announce the established improvement in health of the Rev. Dr. Scorr. His arrival at the point from which recovery of strength can be declared was more gradual than was expected when he resigned the pastorate of the Church of the Pilgrims; but the resignation itself, in shutting him out from the sense of official responsibility, became a factor in the restoration of his strength, which is steadily being effected. He persists to himself the pleasure of receiving but very few friends, for his best friends realize the drain of interviews on the revering vigor of a convalescing man, but he is keenly conscious of and thankful for the multiplied evidences of love and remembrance that are brought in upon him, and it is hoped that this nonsojourn in present circumstances will afford for that more personal acknowledgment which the number of tributes and acknowledgments forbids him directly to make. His sympathetic and acute interest in affairs of religion and of the world was never more marked than now. His increasing capacity for moderate exercise is a daily fact. His will for rehabilitating road coincides with proofs of its upbuilding effect. His appreciation, certainly solemnizing and well-nigh oppressive, of the affectionate comment which his resignation has evoked from all sources of religious and secular opinion, journalistic or individual, is complete, and his thanks to known and to unknown friends come at this time from a heart which wishes for them a full measure of happiness and prosperity in this festal period of the year.
